

*Who's who in today's Slovenian disaster? Our brain is washed by the leftist media appearances and irresponsibility in the graph named individuals. Above, in the graph named individuals is hanging a certain psychopathic cloud, as we know them from media appearances or according to their deeds, respectively. They do not involve the self-cultivating in terms of building a personal self-realization, said in terms of Confucius. Their behavior does not establish a harmonious society of culturally connected people, but rather the opposite. We all die eventually just the same, lonely death. Activity in the graph named is certainly not model, its stance is unfortunately psychopathically colored. They are uncles and aunts in the background, acting as ordinary bastards and fart.
